RockTalk is a Stockhead video series featuring a roundtable of resources experts discussing a new macro topic each week.

In this edition of RockTalk host Peter Strachan discusses the world's recent focus on the global copper market. The expert panel helps us understand where this metal will be sourced and how much it will cost to deliver.

Populating the expert panel for this discussion are Christian Easterday, managing director & CEO at Hot Chili \(ASX:HCH\), Dan Thomas, managing director at Hammer Metals \(ASX:HMX\) and Lachlan Wallace, CEO & managing director at Hillgrove Resources \(ASX:HGO\).

Hot Chili were recently granted access to the physical land of its Maritime Concession for extraction of sea water just 60km from the proposed location of Costa Fuego's central processing facilities in Chile.

Hammer Metals' initial drilling at the Hardway project in Queensland has discovered a potentially significant copper-rare earths system with valuable heavy rare earths.

Hillgrove Resources in the works to get its historical Kanmantoo copper mine back in the business of production again.
